Zombie Myth #2: The Hole Was Too Small for a Large Aircraft

- Some 9/11 Pentagon analysts say there was only a 16 ft (or 18 ft) hole
 - Must have been a missile!
 - Must have been a bomb
- Last month, the debater was emphatic
 - Hole in first floor wall “no more than 50 ft”
 - Column 15 rises from slab and angled outward!
 - Column 15 define the extent of the opening!

Pentagon Witness

Mike Walter, USA Today

USA Today's Mike Walter was driving near the Pentagon when he saw an American Airlines jet fly directly into the country's military nerve center.

"I was sitting in the northbound on 27 and the traffic was, you know, typical rush-hour -- it had ground to a standstill."

I looked out my window and I saw this plane, this jet, an American Airlines jet, coming. And I thought, 'This doesn't add up, it's really low.' And I saw it. I mean it was like a cruise missile with wings. It went right there and slammed right into the Pentagon. Huge explosion, great ball of fire, smoke started billowing out.

And then it was chaos on the highway as people tried to either move around the traffic and go down, either forward or backward. "We had a lady in front of me, who was backing up and screaming, 'Everybody go back, go back, they've hit the Pentagon.' It was just sheer terror."

Pentagon Witness

Daryl Donley

"I had been driving to work for about 45 minutes in unusually bad bumper to bumper traffic. While I was stopped in traffic, in front of the Pentagon, I heard a loud sound get very loud extremely fast. I ducked down in my car as quickly as I could. I followed the sound as it traveled over me. I looked up to see the entire plane next to my car, through my passenger window a short distance away. I watched the plane fly into the Pentagon. I heard the crunching sound of the plane disintegrating as it slammed into the building at ground level. I screamed as loudly as I possibly could. The plane disappeared into the building as a massive fireball erupted, engulfing one side of the Pentagon; I felt the heat.

I got out of my car. Traffic was completely stopped at that time. Military Police on the north and south end of the roadway in front of the Pentagon were holding traffic in place. I paced back and forth across the road a few times in complete disbelief. I saw one man in the stopped traffic calmly speaking on his cell phone standing next to his car. Another woman near him was screaming hysterically out of control in her vehicle.

As I was pacing, I realized I had all my camera equipment in my car since I was planning on photographing an event later in the day ... As a lifelong photographer, once I engaged with the camera, my instincts took over and I asked myself, 'what will tell the story of this instant?' I continued until the Military Police decided to clear the road."

Announcer: Joining us by phone is Don Chauncey. Don, are you there?

Don: Yes I am.

Announcer: You witnessed what happened at the pentagon -- What did you see?

Don Chauncey: From my offices I was able to see a white jet -- Gulfstream type commuter jet -- I guess. It came at a high rate of speed. I could see National Airport's tower from our offices. And it just increased its speed as it got closer to the Pentagon. Then I saw the big yellow ball of fire.

Announcer: And just exactly is your office -- from where are you watching this?

Don: We -- our offices are right off of St Bartimus Road and the Beltway. So I overlook the beltway from my office.

Announcer: Could you tell, Don, did the plane come out of National?

Don: No absolutely not. It appeared to be a US Air commuter jet that Went over the top of our building which is the normal flight pattern -- I guess -- for commuters. And this looked like it was coming -- I guess down Columbia Pike from Arlington -- from down that way. And then picked up a high rate of speed. from my desk right now I can see the Pentagon -- basically where the metro station is and the buses -- I can see that to the right -- but I can't see the south parking area.

ABC Interview with Don Wright (About 2 Miles North)

News caster: (Calling for correspondent John McQuwethy) Then let me go quickly to someone named Don Wright who saw the plane crash into the Pentagon. Don, are you there in Washington?

Don Wright: Yes I am.

News caster: Can you tell us what happened?

Don Wright: Yes. It was about 9:35. I was looking out our 12th floor windows at 1600 Wilson Blvd in Roslyn VA. And I watched this what looked like a commuter plane -- two engine -- come down from the south -- real low -- proceed right on and crashed into the Pentagon.

News caster: Went directly into the Pentagon?

Don Wright: Yes, that is correct.

News caster: Looked like a deliberate act?

Don Wright: Deliberate act sir.

News caster: And can you tell me from which direction it came from Don?

Don Wright: It came from the south

News caster: Came up from the south -- along the river -- across the land.

Don Wright: It came from the south.

News caster: Did you happen to look at your watch? We thought it was just a little bit before 10 o'clock

Don Wright: I was watching ABC News -- watching the Twin Towers -- and about the time I saw the plane -- I watched it come in very low over the trees -- it dipped down -- came down right over 395 and right into the Pentagon.

News caster: Are you fairly sure that it was what we sometimes describe and recognize as a small commuter plane

Don Wright: Yes it was

Deb Anlauf (About 1 Mile South)

Anlauf was watching TV coverage of the Trade Center burning shortly before 9:30 a.m. when she decided to return to her 14th-floor room from another part of the hotel. Once in her room, she heard a "loud roar" and looked out the window to see what was going on.

"Suddenly I saw this plane right outside my window," Anlauf said during a telephone interview from her hotel room this morning. "You felt like you could touch it; it was that close. It was just incredible. "Then it shot straight across from where we are and flew right into the Pentagon. It was just this huge fireball that crashed into the wall (of the Pentagon). When it hit, the whole hotel shook."

Zombie Myth #5: Ground Effect Forces Plane Hit No Lower Than 4th Floor

- “...The highly energized ground effect region beneath the wings, [...], would prevent the craft from getting any closer to the ground than approximately one half its wingspan while flying at high speed.”
- Neglects downward angle of approach
- Plane above one half wingspan until last 1500 ft
- Within 1500 ft, the ground effect deflects plane's downward trajectory – stays above “pristine lawn”

Ground Effect Dependent on Topography

The plane, as it neared the building, was descending at an angle, estimates of which range from 1.5 to 6 degrees [...]

The high approach speed at the Pentagon will have increased the ground effect force, and it may well have been severe from the light poles to the Pentagon, but this would have lasted for only about a second, not long enough to greatly deflect the plane, with its huge momentum. Given the surprisingly low approach, indicated by the fact that the poles were hit, it may well have been this brief burst of ground effect which prevented the plane from crashing before it reached the Pentagon. Prior to the poles the ground effect would have been dependent on the topography and the speed and path of the plane. [...]

Probable Effect of Momentum

- NWA 255 (slow with unsteady wobble)
 - After strike traveled 2500 ft in 5.2 seconds
- Large plane (fast and steady)
 - After strike, traveled 950 ft in 1.25 seconds
- Momentum could have been sufficient
 - To continue to the Pentagon wall
 - Aerodynamic forces may not have had enough time to change speed and direction
